About Llanfairpwllgwyngyll and Anglesey

Known by the locals as Llanfair PG, the Anglesey village of Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogerychwyrndrobwlllantysiliogogoch, also known by its shortened name of Llanfairpwllgwyngyll has the longest place name in Europe. It translates from Welsh as "St Mary's church in the hollow of the white hazel near to the fierce whirlpool and the church of St Tysilio of the red cave" and is situated close to the Menai Straits, just off the Britannia Bridge. Have your name taken next to the village nameplate at the railway station, plus walk past the octagonal Toll House, towards Menai Bridge, which will bring you to the Marquis of Anglesey statue and column which, for a small fee, you can climb the 115 steps to the top for superb views of the countryside and coastline. Also close by are several good pubs with restaurants, craft and gift shops and cafes.
